Need a New Hair Idea?

Steal a few from celeb stylist Harry Josh, who takes over the page this month. Thanks, Harry!

1 AMP UP YOUR COLOR. "Making brunette hair a shade cooler or going honey blond all over instead of doing the usual highlights is enough to make people say, 'You look great! What have you done?'" says Josh, international creative consultant for John Frieda. "I just worked up Gisele's shade, and it looks amazing."

2 DEEP-CONDITION WEEKLY. Sometimes it's all you need to give hair new life—especially if you have a codependency on hot styling tools. "I tell my celebs to use a rich deep conditioner, like Terax Crema," says Josh (it's $22 at ulta.com). "It really sinks in and leaves hair silky."

3 HIT THE HOT ROLLERS!

"Bouncy waves are always sexy, and rollers are the best way to make them last," says Josh. "For some women, they're also easier to master than a round brush." Scrunch volumizer into damp hair, blow-dry and wind in large rollers. Once they're cool, remove and run a paddle brush through to loosen the curl but keep the body.

4 FORGET A MAJOR CUT-TRY BANGS.

"Long ones like Ali's transform you," says Josh. "She's open to new things, so I can really run with her look—which is rare in Hollywood, and fun for me!"

The Secret Weapons He Swears By

FHI Heat Nano Weight Pro 1900 Turbo Blow Dryer ($195, fhiheat.com). "Powerful, and it lasts forever."
John Frieda Frizz-Ease Thermal Protection Hair Serum ($10, at drugstores). "A tiny dab on dry hair knocks out frizz and adds shine."
Kérastase Volumactive Mousse ($34, kerastase-usa.com). "For curly, straight, fine or thick hair, it's the best light styling lotion, period."

beauty quickie "A glittery accessory takes the pressure off you to do something with your hair," says Josh.
